WHAT IS THE PURPOSE OF PURPOSE TRUSTS?

Thursday, May 18, 2023
12:00 pm–1:00 pm

Presenters:

Susan Gary & Jeff Patterson, Esq.

Purpose trusts got a lot of attention when Patagonia's owners gave control of Patagonia—a three-billion-dollar company—to a trust. Patagonia made this unusual move to achieve its owners' long-term objectives around worker well-being and climate action. Here in Oregon, we have a version of a purpose trust called a stewardship trust. Stewardship trusts in Oregon make it possible to put ownership of a business in trust, with the business continuing to operate without owners (other than the trust itself). Intrigued? Tune in for a discussion with Oregon law professor Susan Gary and Bend lawyer Jeff Patterson on how stewardship trusts work and what challenges and opportunities they present.

THE POTENTIAL OF POST HOC INTERVENTIONS TO ADDRESS RACIAL AND ETHNIC DISPARITIES IN CRIMINAL SENTENCING

Thursday, June 8, 2023

12:00 pm–1:00 pm

Presenters:

Erik Girvan and Martin Jönsson (Lund)

The results of decades of research has shown that discriminatory decisions can impact criminal sentencing. Dr. Erik Girvan, an Oregon Law professor with a background in social psychology, recently completed an empirical study of how biased perceptions of ethnicity may lead to sentencing disparities in Oregon courts. How can we use this data to prevent the perpetuation of sentencing disparities? One possibility is through use of “post hoc interventions.” Join us for a discussion with Professor Erik Girvan and his collaborator, Dr. Martin Jönsson, who are working together as part of an international, multidisciplinary research team to develop post hoc interventions and investigate their potential to mitigate the effects of biased decision in criminal sentencing and other contexts.
